Market Demoralized Greater Part of the Day.

RALLY JUST BEFORE CLOSE

General Belief that President Taft and Railway Heads Will Reach change session prices rallied with a vigor that they have not shown on any previous occasion during the recent period of market weakness. This might have been due, and perhaps it was in large measure, to the mere retirement at a good profit of speculative contracts for the fall, but even if this was the case such retirement went on with a greater rush than at any time hitherto, and it was so actively conducted as to cancel a very large share of the declines that had been made in the preceding hour.

These declines were, it must be admitted, of rather surprising proportions considering the extent of the break in the market last week, and they excited Amazed by the police report for 1909, which showed that more than 35,000 arrests were made in Washington, 10,000 of which proved useless, citizens took up the subject yesterday and it is being widely discussed.

"The police of this city are somewhat of a nuisance," said a prominent real estate agent yesterday. "I do not know whether it is impossible for them to find enough 'legitimate' business to advance their records or whether they just like to residents, and others. make trouble.
